JOCK'S WAGGIN' TONGUE

Vol. 3 Thurs. Apr. 6 1939. No. 10
Jock McIntyre, Editor

We would not like to mention names but it seems queer that Shorty didn't call George's offer to bet 10 to 1 on Port William to win last Saturday night's hockey game at Calgary.

Cowan, Leyton, Copper Carbamate and Formaldehyde are all in our stock and are all fresh stock.

Our reconditioned 20-run double die high wheel McGreg. power drill at a bargain this week.

Charlie and Alex McDougall are showing a lot of fine bulls in the Calgary show this week. Watch the Scotch go.

Our stock of small tools is complete and every price is guaranteed. Good tools always prove cheaper in the end.

The finals of the Hopkiss' poker league was held on Monday night and Eli is the champion, his winnings for the season being fifteen cents.

Wm. Penn Gun Grease does not cost a penny more than ordinary grease but there is a difference. Try it and be satisfied.

Barny is back on the job but had to go to Calgary on Wednesday, and we don't know whether it was to buy a bull or shoot some.

We have a completely overhauled 22-30 H.P. McGreg. tractor that's really to go to work for you at only a fraction of the new price.

Pete—"Have you folks a bottle opener around here?" Louie—"Yes, but he's away at college."

Westinghouse leads again (or yet) by introducing the new 14 volt tubes which means new radio battery economy that you never thought possible as well as at prices you will be surprised at.

We hear rumors that Guy and Edith celebrated their wedding anniversary on Sunday night.

Our stock of that good Marshall Wells line of paints and varnishes for spring cleaning is complete.

Oscar and Mrs. Castor are back from 'the coast another sure sign of spring.

Bob: "I can't imagine what I'd do without you." Secretary: "Well, I've been here a year, and you still haven't imagined what you could do with me, honey."

School Festival Decided Success

Nobleford and Black Springs Win Cups

The curtain was rung down on the 1939 school festival for Little Bow on Friday night after full day of exacting performance in which pupils from the public and high schools throughout the districts gave of their best. Adjudicators and officials of the Festival are well pleased with the showing.

Practically the only dampening effect was the absence of Carmangay schools, that section being unable to participate owing to illness. Individual entries came from that town but as indicated the strength of the competition was lessened by reason of Carmangay school absence. Honors were divided between the various schools.

The cup for high schools after checking and rechecking went to Nobleford with a margin of one-eighth point. The runner up, Champion, held the cup last year and of course, it is a healthy sign to have it change hands at intervals, if not annually. The rural school cup went to Black Spring Valley.

There is no question about the efficiency of the adjudicators. Their decisions, while not in agreement possible with some of the audience or spectators were always backed up by reasonable explanations, and the criticisms were always helpful, but not too personal, as often is the case at straight musical festivals.

Outstanding individual award went to Miss Virginia Farmer who chalked up 100 points in elocution in the class grade 9 and 10. Kenneth McMahon and Beverly Roberts, the former of Champion and latter of Barons were given special mention in their vocal numbers. Nobleford high school won the chorus event, and rural school event went to Black Springs.

In the drama section, the Barons high school won highest points for their presentation.

E. H. GRIFFIN HEADS UNITY

Local Reeve Chosen at Organization Meet

At an organization meeting held at Vulcan on Wednesday the Little Bow Unity Assoc. was formed and E. H. Griffin was named president with J. D. Hagerman vice pres. and W. D. Allen secretary-treasurer.

Principal speaker was E. W. Brunsden provincial secretary Unity Council who explained the aims of the group. It was not a political party seeking office but a group combining those who wanted a good administration not being satisfied with the provincial one. Its policies would in the main be made by the provincial council made up of elected representatives also the members of the Unity League elected at the next election who would also select, if a majority seats were secured, a head who would be called Premier. It had no aspirations toward Federal policies.

D. J. McKinnon spoke of the organization in the Gleichen constituency while the election of officers was conducted by ballot with the strictest adherence to parliamentary rules. There was a representative attendance of the people of the constituency and rapid attention was given the addresses of the several speakers.

CONVICTED UNDER POLL TAX BY-LAW Provisions Must Be Lived Up To By All

In police court here on Friday before Magistrate F. G. Beaumont of Carmangay, a conviction was registered against Mrs. Ella Herbart, owner and operator of the Van Heusen Mine and the Geo. Duquesne mine for failure to supply the names of employees working for her, or the mine as required by the by-law of the municipal district of Hornum. A fine of $1 and $10.50 costs was imposed.

Defence was that she did not know of the demand to supply the names but the court held, following the evidence of C. Rhodes municipal clerk, who told of sending out letters all of which were apparently received but this one, that she had notice of the demand to supply the names by the date of trial made the penalty less, His worship stated.

Prosecuting, Constable Ridgway stated that he was not asking for a severe penalty just one that would indicate to the public that the by law was going to be enforced.

An Agricultural Program

With every evidence in support of the statement there appears to be good ground for the belief that the long era of drought which has afflicted the prairie provinces during the past decade is now a thing of the past and that farmers and businessmen have reasonable hope in looking forward to a series of a period of years of sufficient if not plentiful moisture.

Assuming this to be true it is not unreasonable to suppose that most farmers are laying plans involving a definite agricultural production policy which they hope to be able to follow for the next few years, in much the same way as the business man has to do, if he is to be assured of some degree of success in his ventures.

With agriculture, as in the commercial world, any long range policy which may be laid down for future guidance must necessarily be elastic to take care of unforeseen circumstances which may arise, to provide for emergencies which have not been thought of and to meet changing conditions which are ever present and frequently cropping up in a world which is subject to frequent changes, even violent ones, at times.

Despite these unanticipated conditions, however, a policy or plan should be laid down for future guidance and adhered to as closely as future circumstances permit, on the farm, in the store and in the warehouse. A goal cannot be reached unless a definite pathway towards it is laid down and pursued. It may be necessary at times to make detours, but these detours should eventually lead back to the main highway. In other words, a following of the will of "the" wind can lead nowhere, in agriculture, any more than in commerce.

Self Sufficiency

Insofar as the agricultural industry in the prairie provinces is concerned, the lessons of the past few years combined with present day world, national and local conditions appear to indicate that, given sufficient moisture in precipitation or storage, it is highly desirable that every farm produce as nearly as possible everything that will provide for the sustenance of its occupants as well as for the maintenance of the soil or the necessity of falling back upon the country for the necessities of life.

Apart from a cash crop which is necessary to enable the farmer to provide those things which he cannot produce from the land, the raising of sufficient foodstuffs on his own land to provide for his own family would appear to be the first objective of a well-developed plan of agriculture.

It would seem desirable, as far as it is feasible to do so, that every farm should produce its own supply of meats, dairy products, vegetables and even fruits, for recent experience has demonstrated that an ever widening range of fruits can be produced on the prairies, even apricots and plums. It is true that some of the larger tree-fruit crops produced on the prairies are not equal in size and quality to similar fruits raised in British Columbia and California, nor are they as easy to grow under mid-continental climatic conditions, but they can be grown, they can be produced at home in various ways that make them quite palatable and they are better than none at all.

As for vegetables, all except the most exotic varieties, it is now well known that the vast majority of the vegetables can be grown to perfection on the prairies. It is not necessary to enumerate varieties here. In every district there are one or more farmers growing them or who have grown them in abundance and the information is readily available from the departments of agriculture, the universities and the experimental and demonstration farms operated by the government or under government direction.

Work Involved

Always provided, of course, that sufficient water is available, there appears to be no reason why all these healthful foods—meats, butter, milk, eggs, cheese, vegetables and fruits should not be raised on every farm, at least in sufficient quantities to supply the families dependent upon them and perhaps a surplus to exchange with neighbors or, where local markets are available, to sell.

When natural soil is not available such a program necessarily entails the planting of trees and their subsequent care, but with trees and shrubs available from the government without cost, this need be no deterrent.

It is true that such a program entails a considerable amount of labor, but the days when the farmer could throw some seed in the ground, take a handful of cash on the ear, fall asleep if for a good price and bank on California beaches the rest of the year have evidently gone, perhaps for ever.

It is quite evident that the time has now come, even with plenty of moisture available, that the pursuit of agriculture on the prairies, to be successful, will involve close attention to the job the year round and that means a great deal of work, but after all for the great majority of people a modicum of success is only attainable through work and plenty of it.

A program mapped out to cover a period of years ahead, plus intelligent application of labor will go at least some distance towards ensuring a partial stabilization of agriculture in the west, even during these lean times, and perhaps difficult times ahead.

Run Out Of Words

Miss V. Dougherty neither minced nor missed words in describing her husband as the first and only passenger approached three Flint, Mich. Mrs. Dougherty said her husband was "sullen, mean, irritable, morbid, disagreeable, nasty, grumpy, cool, bitter, jealous, meddling, playful, loathsome, insulting, brazen, miserly, gluttonous, temperamental, selfish, conceited, inattentive, unkind and inconsiderate."

Percentage Is Lower

Five years ago air line publicity people estimated the percentage of passengers who approached three four per cent. Operation at higher altitudes during recent years—between 4,000 and 10,000 feet—has cut the number of air-side passengers to three out of every thousand. Air sickness is less frequent than anaesthetics.

Discuss New Agreement

Under Which Canadian Press Will Extend Service To CBC

A new agreement between the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation and The Canadian Press, under which the CBC will be given an extended news service, was discussed in the committee at Ottawa. Hon. H. H. Stevens (Cons., Kootenay) asked Gladstone Murray, CBC general manager, for particulars of the agreement. Mr. Murray said that for some years The Canadian Press had supplied the CBC with news bulletins free of cost. Now the CBC proposed to greatly extend its news on the air and The Canadian Press had offered to provide an additional service and be paid only for the out-of-pocket cost entailed in the preparation of bulletins, which was estimated at $200.00 a year.

"I do not wish to criticize this agreement," said Mr. Stevens, "but The Canadian Press has the news service, which interested continental European news from a variety of viewpoints. It is not as well if the continental news were secured through British sources giving a British viewpoint. Now, if we are to consider an interchange of news from other sources. The point was raised whether the Canadian Press was a United States agency. Mr. Murray said he was not in a position to state that. The Canadian Press obtains its European news from its own London bureau, the Associated Press. Obviously valuable and interesting friendships are being formed, enabling these labs to understand the viewpoint of each other. Mr. Stevens was taught in every school throughout the world what a useful thing it would be. Not only would people feel more disposed to travel to lands where they had friends of other nationalities and get to know each other and the country better, but it would be a great source of international understanding, helping to dispel international differences. Mr. Stevens said that boys and girls were required to learn it as a secondary language instead of French, German, Italian and the rest, it would simplify education and contribute to the peace of the world.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

Epicures Prize Omissions

American Consumes About Ten Pounds Every Year

The State Agricultural Department believes that the average American consumes ten pounds of onions every year in his quest for perfection. The onion, the department says, is "high on epicures' lists at the moment."

"Those that have onions are advised to avoid:—

"Those that have onions are advised to avoid:—

"When it comes to food value and their place in a well-rounded diet," the department said, "the onion supplies some minerals and some vitamins B and C when eaten raw in sandwiches and salads."

Has A Double

British Weekly Runs A Picture Purporting To Be Prime Minister

Prime Minister Mackenzie King has a double living in London. The existence of the double was brought to light after the British weekly news-magazine, News Review, ran a picture purporting to be that of Canada's prime minister.

A few weeks later a letter explaining that the picture was of the writer, Sir John Ernest Henson, one-time acting governor of Bombay, appeared in the magazine.

Sir John said the picture was taken at a garden party in London at the time of the coronation of King George in May, 1937.

"The wrong identification has only amused me and my friends, but may possibly cause annoyance to Mr. Mackenzie King," Sir John wrote.

"News-Review, which published in the same issue profile pictures of Prime Minister Mackenzie King and his double, remarked on the 'striking resemblance.'"

Ask For Investigation

Divers charges that Communism and Fascism are taught in Toronto led the Toronto civic legislation committee to the government. The committee should be asked to order "a sweeping investigation" under the Public Inquiries Act into activities of Communism and Fascism in the province.

Stratosphere Base

A Useful Language

Espananto Would Contribute Largely To Peace Of The World

It is a little over 50 years since a Polish eye doctor devised a simple and easily-learned language he called Espananto, which, he hoped, would be taught in every country so that one day it would become an auxiliary universal language enabling people in every country to talk or write to each other. The program has not been made to the extent anticipated by the inventor or those who took it up, but at the present time there are about a million people who are Espanantists.

There seems, however, to be a slackening of interest. At a convention in Edinburgh recently a high school teacher from Aberdeen reported that in his school voluntary classes were formed and over one hundred boys are learning the language rapidly. Although the classes were only started last year the boys were already carrying on correspondence with other Espanantists in France, Holland, Sweden, Denmark, Norway, Bulgaria, Hungary, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia. It was also revealed that Espananto is being added to the accomplishments of British Boy Scouts and a national shield is being competed for.

It is certainly a reasonable and interesting thing that schoolboys with only about a year's study should be able to converse with boys in nine other countries, ten countries and ten languages but all able to write and speak the same words. Obviously valuable and interesting friendships are being formed, enabling these labs to understand the viewpoint of each other. Mr. Stevens was taught in every school throughout the world what a useful thing it would be. Not only would people feel more disposed to travel to lands where they had friends of other nationalities and get to know each other and the country better, but it would be a great source of international understanding, helping to dispel international differences.

Espananto seems to lack friends in high places but if boys and girls were required to learn it as a secondary language instead of French, German, Italian and the rest, it would simplify education and contribute to the peace of the world.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

A Good Foundation

Sermon On Mount Once Suggested As Guide For British Foreign Relations

Several years ago, in the British House of Parliament, a member had made a statement of principles which he believed should guide the foreign relations of the Empire. He went on to say that he believed the policy should be based on the Sermon on the Mount.

At this point another member rose to protest, saying, "Gentlemen, if you are going to base the foreign policy of the British Empire on the Sermon on the Mount, then all I have to say is 'God help England.'"

The other speaker, answered, "And He will!"

National Veterans' Survey

Appeal Is Being Made For Voluntary Registration

To further the plans of the veterans' organizations to make a national veterans' survey, decided upon at a conference of the presidents of the national veterans' organizations in Toronto on January 26, committees are now being set up in each province to conduct registration of returned men and women.

An appeal is being made for voluntary registration immediately, so that information as to resources of the personnel available in case of national emergency arising out of the tense international situation, for service in Canada, will be on hand.

The Dominion committee stresses that enrollment is entirely voluntary, does not constitute enlistment in any sense and imposes no obligation, but information is required as to the numbers who might be available if required, their location and details of their qualifications and this applies to all men and women who have served previously in any capacity.

It is pointed out that a great deal of this information will be available from the accomplishments of organizations operating in the several provinces, but there are many veterans who are not members of these organizations and they are being asked to register at the nearest branch of any such association.

An offer to conduct this survey was made by the national veterans' organizations to the Federal authorities and was accepted.

True Facts About Hockey

English Manuscript Of 1527 Tells Of Its Early Origin

"Hockey, played on grass, with a ball instead of a puck, was invented in England about 50 years ago," and the Stratford Beacon-Herald, "and ice hockey, although now regarded as the supreme winter game in Canada, owes its origin to the fact that when some young men came from England as members of a governmental staff, they played hockey on the frozen rivers and ponds for exercise."

The fact is, however, that ground hockey in the Old Country, in one form or another, is a very old game. A manuscript of 1527 refers to the "hurling" (hurling) of the little ball with hockey sticks or staves. This was perhaps not very different from what was also called bally in England, shinty (or shinty) in Scotland, and hurling in Ireland. Bandy (hurling) referred to the use of the human extremities to-day. And "bandying" words is sending the conversational ball (or puck) back and forth—just an old hockey custom.—Toronto Star Weekly.

East Farm Problems

Fight Of Agriculturalists Of Major National Concern

Canada can never "develop and prosper as she should" until some of the problems confronting the farming industry have been solved. F. W. Walsh, director of marketing for Nova Scotia, warned at the agricultural conference among the Dominion's five eastern provinces.

Termining the plight of the eastern farmers, particularly as of "major national concern," Walsh called for "definite collective planning" to re-habilitate the industry.

Outlining the purpose of the party, the Nova Scotia director told the delegates from five provinces it had been called because of the many problems hinging on the monetary returns to the producers. It was recognized that "much of the depressed condition which Canada finds herself in at the present time" was caused by lack of purchasing power on the part of the primary producers, and of this group agriculture was the most important.

The conference was mainly a fact-finding gathering aimed at improved marketing and co-ordination between the provinces. Its delegates represented all phases of agriculture.

Walsh said that out of the assembly was expected to come a permanent or continuing committee that would carry its recommendations further and "devise ways and means of putting the recommendations into effect."
